The image shows a digital gameboard for 'Character Traits Game Show'. It features a grid of 30 question cards arranged in 6 rows and 5 columns. The columns are color-coded and labeled: pink for 'NAME THE TRAIT', orange for 'THIS OR THAT?', green for 'POSITIVE TRAITS', teal for 'NEGATIVE TRAITS', and purple for 'MIXED BAG'. Each card displays a point value from 100 to 500. To the right of the grid is a vertical title 'CHARACTER TRAITS GAME SHOW' with a red and blue triangle above it. Below the title are two buttons: 'SCORE BOARD' and 'RESET PAGE'.

STORY STRUCTURE FOR 200

Miles grabbed his duffel bag and left the police station in a hurry, ready to get out on his rounds. After driving for a while, he found his suspect. He reached into the passenger's seat for the duffel bag and rummaged for his spy camera, only to find that it was missing! Miles specifically remembered placing the camera in his bag. Tracing his steps in his mind, he only remembered bumping into the new recruit at the front desk. Remotely, Miles activated the spy camera and was surprised to see a plate of tasty donuts in front of the camera. "Ugh, he really thought it was a pen!" Miles sighed, before turning around to return to the police station and retrieve the pen from the rookie officer.

"Oh no, we're out of milk!" Georgia's mom said. A heavy snow was falling, which meant going to the store was not an option. "How will I make mashed potatoes now?" she asked. "Well, do we have sour cream or cheese?" asked Georgia, thinking quickly of a solution. "Huh! I wouldn't have thought of using sour cream, but let's try it," her mother answered. The mashed potatoes were delicious!
