INTERACTIVE GAMEBOARD

The point values only disappear after used on the Powerpoint version. Google Slides, unfortunately, does not have the same capabilities so you will need to keep track with the included question tracker.

The gameboard is a grid of 30 question cards arranged in 6 rows and 5 columns. Each card has a colored header with a question type and a white box with a point value. The columns are: 'THIS OR THAT?' (pink), 'FILL IN THE BLANK' (orange), 'TRUE OR FALSE?' (green), 'STATE THE THEME' (teal), and 'MIXED BAG' (purple). The point values are 100, 200, 300, 400, and 500 for rows 1 through 5 respectively. Row 6 contains a 'SCORE BOARD' button and a 'RESET PAGE' button. To the right of the grid, the text 'FIND THE THEME' is written vertically in large black letters, with 'GAME SHOW' written vertically below it. Three colored chevrons (orange, green, purple) are positioned above the text.

STORY STRUCTURE FOR 200

Miles grabbed his duffel bag and left the police station in a hurry, ready to get out on his rounds. After driving for a while, he found his suspect. He reached into the passenger's seat for the duffel bag and rummaged for his spy camera, only to find that it was missing! Miles specifically remembered placing the camera in his bag. Tracing his steps in his mind, he only remembered bumping into the new recruit at the front desk. Remotely, Miles activated the spy camera and was surprised to see a plate of tasty donuts in front of the camera. "Ugh, he really thought it was a pen!" Miles sighed, before turning around to return to the police station and retrieve the pen from the rookie officer.

CATEGORY 1: THIS OR THAT?

Students are given a paragraph and then a choice of two themes for them to determine the theme of the passage.

THIS OR THAT? FOR 100

What is the overall theme of the paragraph below?

It was going to be a tough few months in the Gonzalez household. Dad had lost his job and Mom was only working part-time. When their parents broke the news, the kids were a bit worried about the change. But, Mom explained that sometimes life is tough and that by working together, they'd get through it. Everyone was going to pitch in so that Dad could look for work and Mom could apply to work full time. The kids promised to help with more chores, and the whole family committed to eating more meals at home to save money. Together, they'd make it through.

Mrs. Finch looked frustrated. She was working on the scenery for the class play, but she had never been very good at drawing birds. Jonah's friend poked him in the ribs. "Hey, why don't you help Mrs. Finch draw the bird?" he asked as they painted the grass. Jonah had a natural gift for drawing, especially animals. So, inspired by his friend, Jonah offered to help Mrs. Finch with the drawing. Mrs. Finch was so grateful that Jonah shared his gift of drawing. They would finish the scenery on time after all!
