

BUNDLE

Holiday of the Day

August 10

National S'mores Day

First on record in the Girl Scouts' handbook in 1927, s'mores are a popular summer treat. Describe a s'more to someone who has never had one. But there's a catch: don't use the words "graham," "marshmallow," or "chocolate." How would you describe it?

DAILY WRITING PROMPTS

ENGAGING & FUN

MAKE EVERY DAY A HOLIDAY!

October 22

International Stuttering Awareness Day

People who stutter have difficulty saying words fluently. It happens to many children but often goes away fairly early in their lives. However, some people do stutter for the entire lives. It can be very frustrating for the stutterer to get their words out when they know what they want to say. Put yourself in their shoes for a moment. How do you think it would feel to know what you want to say but get stuck on words or have other people finish your sentences for you?

December 14

Monkey Day

There are over 250 monkey species in the world, and most have tails but not all. Monkeys are believed to be very intelligent and like humans, have fingers with their own set of fingerprints. Think of one profession (teacher, police officer, scientist, firefighter, doctor, etc.). Now, imagine that all people in that profession were replaced by monkeys. What effect would that have on the world?

May 11

National Eat What You Want Day

Why do the least healthy foods always seem to taste the best? Limiting yourself from things you love can be challenging. Experts agree that while eating unhealthy foods all the time can be bad for you, restricting yourself isn't the best strategy either. If you could eat anything you wanted all day today with no consequences, what would be on the menu and why?

April 9

National Name Yourself Day

What's your name? How did you get that name? Just for fun, get creative and come up with a new, catchy name for yourself today. What name would you choose? What are your reasons for choosing this name?

TEACHER DISPLAY SLIDES

DIGITAL & PRINT

STUDENT RESPONSE SLIDES

November 19th | Play Monopoly Day

Known as one of the most popular board games in the world, Monopoly was based on a board game created by Elizabeth Magie in 1902. Even McDonald's encourages you to play Monopoly using tokens from your meals to win prizes. What is your favorite board game? What is the object of the game? What makes it so great?

April 15th | Titanic Remembrance Day

The Titanic sank on April 15, 1912, after hitting an iceberg, claiming the lives of more than 1,500 people. Today, we remember the lives of those lost, as well as the survivors. As of 2009, none of the known survivors are alive today. Write a newspaper article reporting on what you know about the Titanic and its sinking.

April 16th | National

Libraries and librarians are a wealth of knowledge. From books to computers and other technology. Many libraries also offer... Write a letter of appreciation to your librarian. Don't forget to include specifics about how they

August 7th | National Lighthouse Day

Lighthouses are incredibly useful scenic structures. If lighthouses were a solution to a problem, what do you think the problem was that they solved?

September 8

International Literacy Day

Write about the importance of literacy (the ability to read and understand written words) by talking about what you'd miss out on if you couldn't read or write.

MY RESPONSE
<input type="radio"/>	double-click-to-type-here
<input type="radio"/>
<input type="radio"/>
<input type="radio"/>
<input type="radio"/>
<input type="radio"/>
<input type="radio"/>
<input type="radio"/>
<input type="radio"/>

STUDENTS CAN RESPOND DIGITALLY OR PRINT OUT THE PDF AND MAKE A BOOKLET FOR THEM!

EDITABLE!

CHANGE OUT ANY HOLIDAY FOR ANOTHER
OR SIMPLIFY THE PROMPT!

August 1

Type Holiday
Here

Add an image
here

Type prompt
here

INCLUDES:

- ✓ 366 DAYS OF HOLIDAY WRITING PROMPTS
- ✓ TEACHER DISPLAY SLIDES
- ✓ DIGITAL STUDENT RESPONSE SLIDES
- ✓ PRINTABLE STUDENT RESPONSE BOOKLET
- ✓ TEACHER MANUAL
- ✓ EDITABLE SLIDES
- ✓ EMAIL SUPPORT

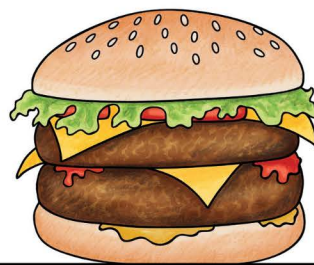

Make every day a holiday!

ENGAGING PROMPTS +
INTERESTING FACTS = NEVER HAVING TO LISTEN TO YOUR STUDENTS SAY THEY DON'T KNOW WHAT TO WRITE ABOUT!

September 18

National Cheeseburger Day

Guess how much the world's largest cheeseburger offered by a restaurant weighs. 30 pounds? 50 pounds? 100 pounds? Nope, 1,794 pounds! It's sold by Mallie's Sports Grill in Detroit. It takes 3 days to make. But, it's actually a menu item! You can order it and Mallie's will make it for you! If you have an extra $7,799 in your pocket, you could consider getting this burger - because that's how much it costs. What do you think about all of this?

January 31

National Hot Chocolate Day

Dating back to 500 BC, chocolate drinks have only grown in popularity. Today, many drink hot chocolate for a variety of reasons. It's delicious, you

March 7

National Cereal Day

Invented by accident in 1877 by brothers John Harvey Kellogg & Will Keith Kellogg, the first cereals were more mush than what we know today. How do your two favorite breakfast cereals compare to each other? How are they the same, and how are they different?

"MY STUDENTS LOVE USING THIS RESOURCE. EVERYDAY THE CAN NOT WAIT TO SEE WHAT THE NEW HOLIDAY OF THE DAY IS. THIS IS VERY ENGAGING, AND KEEPS THE STUDENTS WANTING TO WRITE. EXCELLENT RESOURCE!"